- Creditor Name: The abbreviated name of the the person or agency that gave you the credit account, such as a bank, credit card company, or mortgage lender.

- Date Opened: The date when the account was opened.

- Balance and Limit: The amount you presently owe on the account (based on the last reported activity) compared to the maximum amount of credit approved. Very recent activities may not yet have appeared in the bureaus’ computer system, so this balance may be a few days out-of-date.
- Payment and Terms: The amount and number of monthly payments scheduled.
- High Balance: The most you have ever owed on this account. In the case of a credit card, for example, this would be the highest balance you’ve ever accumulated. For a mortgage, it would be the initial amount of the mortgage, not the current paid-down principal.

The INQUIRY INFORMATION section lists details about each inquiry that has been made into your credit history. Details include the name of the creditor or potential creditor who made the inquiry and the date when the inquiry was made.

An inquiry appears when an organization such as a bank or retail store requests a copy of your credit report. These requests can only be made if you have a credit granting relationship or are applying for credit with the organization. The requestor's name will appear on your credit report, allowing you to monitor who accessed your credit report.

Please Note: An excessive number of inquiries may adversely affect your creditworthiness. However, inquiries you personally have made via TrueCredit.com are considered to be “soft inquiries” that will not negatively impact your credit standing.

The CREDITOR INFORMATION section lists the names of all creditors and potential creditors that appear on your credit report. The list includes both creditors that appear in your Account History section and creditors that appear in the Inquiry Section. Each creditor's address is listed to the right of the creditor's name. When available, the creditor’s phone number is also listed. Creditors without listed numbers must be contacted via the U.S. Postal Service.
